

Passages

Where do you want to go? What do you want to do? These are tough questions unless you have figured out who you are and what is out there.

Passages is a program, sponsored through CORE @ The Camptonville Academy, designed to help high school students discover their innate potential and passions through various group, outdoor and experiential activities. Students also have the opportunity to experience and see things that they may not typically exposed to - physical/social challenges, career research (ranging from high tech to public service), universities, places, people, etc.
